

To Our Valued Customers,

As we build and broaden our focus in spine care and pain management, we're pleased to announce that we have formally acquired ComforTrac, the premier manufacturer and supplier of cervical and lumbar home traction units. This acquisition affirms our commitment to offering you and your patients innovation-driven pain management solutions.

We are deeply committed to customer success, and Aspen's high-touch field and service team will be integrated to enhance the support of ComforTrac customers. Helping people live pain free lives has always been the primary focus for ComforTrac, and we are proud to expand the use of traction and reach more patients through the Aspen platform.

To learn more about ComforTrac products, please visit aspenmp.com/products or contact your local Aspen sales representative.

We appreciate your support and are dedicated to serving you and your patients' needs.

Sincerely,

Jim Cloar
